CIMCC Lecture Series
The Legacy of Jim Thorpe and other Native American Heroes
Presented by: Nicole Lim

I am no more proud of my career as an athlete than I am of the fact that I am a direct descendant of that noble warrior [Chief Black Hawk]. — Jim Thorpe

March 5, 2016 from 12:00pm-1:30pm
CALIFORNIA INDIAN MUSEUM AND CULTURAL CENTER
5250 Aero Drive Santa Rosa, CA 95403

Join us in exploring the lives and experiences of Native American heroes, from the late 19th century up to the present.

Learn more about both professional and amateur players, and their triumphs over the odds.

Native American communities have produced many sports champions. From track and field to ice skating, Native American youth have overcome tremendous challenges and (in the words of Hiram Thorpe) have "shown the world what Indians can do."
