

THE CALIFORNIA INDIAN MUSEUM & CULTURAL CENTER

Native Youth Ambassadors Through Theater

June 25th - June 29th
10am - 4pm
5250 Aero Drive, Santa Rosa, CA 95403

CIMCC will be hosting a "Tribal Youth Ambassadors" summer camp June 25 - 29th, 2012.

The youth will spend a week in "ambassadors" training at CIMCC where they will be trained in public speaking, storytelling, acting and tribal history and culture!

We will be asking participants to perform at the Wellsfargo Theater on October 24th, 2012, with storyteller Jacque Nunez. The youth will be part of Jacque's "Journey to the Past" storytelling performance. She has performed for audiences statewide and is adapting the performance for this area so that our local history and culture will be showcased. This is a great educational opportunity to share historically accurate and culturally sensitive information! The best part is that our youth will be the ones communicating it!

There is no cost to attend the NYATT program. The program will run Monday-Friday 10am to 3pm. A Family Night will be held Thursday evening. Participants must arrive with a lunch and snacks everyday.

For More information contact Scott Anderton at: (707) 579-3004,
e-mail him at scotto@nijc.org
or visit our Website at www.cimcc.org
This project is supported by a grant from the Native Arts and Culture Foundation.

