our

Native Youth Employment Training Program Summer Session

NYETP is a intensive program to support youth ages 15-24 who are preparing for or seeking employment in the workforce. Participants are eligible for paid internship opportunities upon completion (please sign up as space is limited).

NYETP examines relevant issues and prepares Native youth for employment success. Whether you want to pursue secondary education and/or start a new career NYETP will assist you in planning and achieving your goals. You will be connected to mentors, community resources and gain on the job experiences through our unique internship program (preparing and launching CIMCC's California Native gift store).

Weekly topics include: evaluating strengths & setting goals, advocating for yourself & your community, wellbeing, healthy relationships, financial literacy, being an ambassador of your community & your profession, retail and hospitality 101, presenting your best self, critical job skills, and community resources.

When:

Monday- Friday 12pm -4pm,
April 22-26, 2019

Where: California Indian Museum & Cultural Center, 5250 Aero Drive, Santa Rosa

How: Register online at www.cimcc.org or call Christina Tlatilpa Inong at 707.579.3004

This Project is funded by The Administration for Native Americans (ANA) and the San Manuel Band of Mission Indians.

We are deeply grateful to ANA and the San Manuel Tribe for helping us sow the seeds of a culturally rich California heritage for the future.
